The mission of the Santa Rosa Symphony (SRS) education department is to continue to transmit the profound legacy of classical music. Today the SRS is widely recognized for one of the most comprehensive music education programs in California.

The SRS features four youth ensembles:

The Preparatory Orchestra is a full orchestra for beginning students between ages 7 and 13. Founded in 1977, the primary focus of the Preparatory Orchestra is to provide a rich and rewarding experience for musicians who have played their instruments for at least 2 years.

The Discovery Orchestra is a full orchestra for intermediate to advanced students. Established in 1994, the Discovery Orchestra is for students up to 18 years of age.

The Young People’s Chamber Orchestra is a small chamber ensemble that takes traditional orchestra performance one step further and molds the students into a virtuoso, conductorless ensemble.

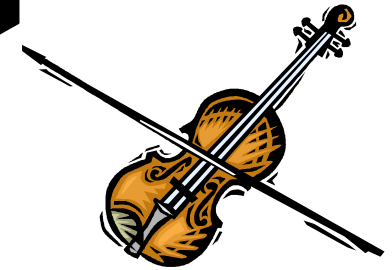

The Youth Orchestra was founded in 1959. Youth Orchestra musicians must be committed to a rigorous routine of rehearsals, private lessons, at-home practice and performances. Music performed is from the standard symphonic orchestral repertoire.
